

Comprehensive Digital Marketing for Haldiram's

Brand study, Competitor Analysis & Buyer's/Audience's Persona

Research Brand Identity:

Haldiram's is a multi-cuisine Indian fast food restaurant. They are the leaders in terms of Indian fast food concept. They are one of India's largest snacks and sweet manufacturers too. Haldiram's was the only company, which emerged in the way it did. They have their establishment in many parts of India viz Delhi, Gurgaon, Nagpur etc. Its products are exported to several countries worldwide including United Kingdom, USA, Canada, Australia, Sri Lanka, Singapore, Malaysia, South Africa, Indonesia, Qatar, Hong Kong, Japan, Kenya, North Korea, Nigeria, Mauritius, Zambia and Bahrain.

History Haldiram was founded in 1937 by Shivkisan Agarwal as retail sweets and namkeens shop in Bikaner, Rajasthan, India and gradually they expanded as they moved to Delhi and set up a small shop in Chandni Chowk area of Old Delhi. The brand name got famous very soon because of the quality of snacks made. In 1992, they set up their first manufacturing unit in Mathura Road, Delhi and that is the time from when they started marketing their products because earlier they used to sell only at their shop. Wholesalers or shopkeepers used to come and they used to buy from there, but they didn't have any sales force or any marketing network.

So, in 1992 they launched a proper package. 1983 to 1992 was the first phase which was essentially at Chandni Chowk shop, nothing more than that. That was the time when Haldiram's got settled in Delhi and their brand name got publicized. They started marketing when they began their manufacturing unit in 1992 at Mathura Road. It was from 1996 or 1997 that they started their exports. So, it's only about fifteen years that the brand name has actually taken off in terms of becoming national.

Haldiram's Marketing Mix For namkeen, it was decided earlier that they have to market this product as a branded product and sell it all over the world because at that time in 1992, no branded namkeen as such was there anywhere in the country. So, they were the first one to start branded namkeen thereby exploring and developing the market. Their namkeen packaging is a separate company, but the sweets are manufactured at each outlet.

Design Editing Ideas:

- Modernizing the Font: To appeal to younger audiences and align with global design trends, the font could be slightly modernized while keeping the traditional essence intact. This could include refining the typography with cleaner lines or more contemporary letter spacing.
- Adding Subtle Icons: The logo could incorporate small symbols that represent the core products, such as a samosa or bhujia. This would create an immediate connection with the product line.
- Exploring Minimalism: While maintaining its traditional roots, a more minimalist approach with a sleek, modern look could make the brand appear more premium, especially for the international market.
